This posthumous work of Hariot contains interesting information concerning the personal history of that author. It was edited by Walter Warner.

HARIOT. A briefe and true re-|port of the new found land of Virginia: of | the commodities there found and to be rayseed, as well mar-|chantable, as others for victuall, building and other necessa-|rie vses for those that are and shalbe [sic] the planters there, and of the na-|ture and manners of the naturall inhabitants: Discovered by the |English Colony there seated by Sir Richard Greinuile Knight in the yeere 1585, which remained vnder the gouernment of Rafe Lane Esqui-|er, one of her Maiesties Esquieres, during the space of twelue monethes: at | the speciall charge and direction of the Honourable Sir |Walter Raleigh Knight, Lord Warden of | the stanneries; who therein hath been fauou-|red and authorised by her Maiestie and | her letters patent: | Directed to the Adventurers, Fauourers, | and Wel-|willers of the action, for the inhabi-|ting and planting there: | By

Thomas Hariot ; seruant to the abouenamed | Sir Walter, a member of the Colony, and | there employed in discouering. | Imprinted
at London 1588. | 4to, 23 leaves. 30377

A work of great rarity. We have seen only one copy, belonging to Mr. James Lenox. There is a copy in the Grenville Library at the British Museum, and another in the Bodleian Library at Oxford; and strange to relate a copy was sold at Dublin, in December, 1873, with five other rare pieces relating to America, for less than £25—the real value was at least ten times that sum. Lowndes does not even so much as mention Hariot, and in searching the works of other eminent bibliographers our success has been nil; the ominous gap remained unfilled. Rich silently passes over “anno 1588,” and Stevens, in all his “Nuggets,” had it not. It remained for Brunet alone to describe the work. Heber did not let it escape his all-devouring, still insatiate maw, and from that source Brunet gets his title. It is included in De Bry’s Collection, and forms the rarest volume of that series, which is described in our Vol. III., pp. 24–30. An abridged English version is included in Hakluyt’s Collection, Vol. III. For a German version see Dresser, Vol. v., No. 20926.

To which is added a concise description of the face of the Country, its Inhabitants, their Manners, Customs, Religion, etc., and considerable specimens of the two Languages, Most extensively Spoken; together with an account of the Principal Animals, to be found in the Forests and Prairies of this extensive Region. Illustrated by a Map of the Country. By Daniel Williams Harmon, a Partner in the North-West Company. Andover: Flagg and Gould. 1820. 8vo, pp. 432. Portrait and Map. B., BA., C., S. 30404

"Revised and edited by Mr. Daniel Haskell, who is said to have introduced religious reflections not made by the author. Harmon's narration of events among, and peculiarities of, the Indian tribes is believed by those familiar with him, and the regions he visited, to be correct; but the life of a fur-trader, dispensing fire-water to the Indians, while daily witnessing the murders it produced, was not favorable to religious emotions. Mr Haskell makes the writer reject the proffer of an Indian concubine by her father, with very proper pious emotions; but Mr. Schoolcraft intimates that the latter were not more consonant with his character than the story of his continence." —FIELD. [HARRISSE (Henry).] Bibliotheca Americana Vetustissima A Description of Works relating to America published between the Years 1492 and 1551 New-York Geo. P. Philes, MDCCCLXVI. Imp. 8vo, pp. (8), liv, 519. 30599

Four hundred copies printed in imp. 8vo, ninety-nine in 4to, and ten on Holland paper. Undertaken at the suggestion of Mr. S. L. M. Barlow, of New York, and contains the titles of over three hundred books. As a specimen of American typography, has probably never been surpassed. In regard to its merits it has received at the hands of some members of the Geographical Society of Paris very high praise, of which an English version (in part) will be found in Stevens's "Bibliotheca Historica," followed by some rather severe criticism on the work by Mr. Stevens, who, writing in the third person, quotes largely from an article in the "Athenæum" of the 6th of October, 1866, of which Mr. Stevens is the author. The writer of this notice does not presume to enter into a controversy with, or a criticism upon, the works of either of these bibliographers, but he cannot help regretting that a work so elaborate, learned, and useful to the American bibliographer, as is this "Bibliotheca," should have had any blemish, which looks like the exhibition of personal pique. We have been assured on very good authority that the blunder of "Ander Schiffahrt's" was really due to some proof-reader, and that the Index, in which Schiffahrt (Ander) is made to appear once more in propria persona, was not the work of Mr. HARRISSE at all. Let it suffice for us to remark that for the student of the earliest of books relating to America, this book is indispensably necessary. Let us add that Mr. HARRISSE has, in some instances, quoted works from White Kennett's "Bibliothecæ Americanæ Primordia," and made the remark that he has found nothing in the works so quoted relating to America. This has arisen from the fact that he has misapprehended the nature of that work, which purposely introduces many books which had no relation to America. The following is a continuation :

[HARRISSE.] Bibliotheca Americana Vetustissima A Description of Works relating to America published between the Years 1492 and 1551 Additions Paris Librairie Tross M. DCCC.-LXXII. Imp. 8vo, pp. (iv), 40, 199, (1). 30600

Two hundred copies printed in 8vo, and fifty copies in 4to. In the matter of printing and paper this volume exceeds in beauty that of its predecessor. Its contents cover the same ground; some titles contained in the former work are further elaborated, and many are entirely new. It will, perhaps, not be saying too much that many of them are only remotely related to America, but the author's careful researches and elaborate dissertations have combined to render the volume a very desirable addition to an American bibliographical collection.

[HARRISSE.] A Brief Disquisition Concerning the Early History of Printing in America. New York: Privately Printed. 1866. Imp. 8vo. 30601

Twenty-five copies printed, of which five are on drawing paper. It forms part of the introduction to the "Bib. Am. Vetustissima." A Spanish version has been printed.

[HARRISSE.] Fernand Colomb Sa Vie, ses Œuvres Essai critique par l'auteur de la Bibliotheca Americana Vetustissima. Paris M DCCC LXXII Imp. 8vo, pp. (vii), 230, (1). 30602

Two hundred and fifty copies printed, of which twenty-five are on Whatman's paper.

[HARRISSE.] Notes on Columbus. New York: Privately Printed. 1866. Sm. folio, pp. vii, 227. 30603

Ninety copies only printed for presentation, at the expense of Samuel L. M. Barlow, of New York. It is one of the finest specimens of printing by the Riverside Press, and having been privately printed, is as rare as it is beautiful. It is both bibliographical and historical, and in each department is a specimen of zeal and erudition.

[HARRISSE.] Notes pour servir à l'histoire, à la bibliographie et à la cartographie de la Nouvelle-France et des pays adjacents 1540-1700 Par l'auteur de la Bibliotheca Americana Vetustissima Paris Librairie Tross 1872 Crown 8vo, pp. (6), xxxiii, (1), 367. 30604

This is a capital resumé of the Bibliography of Canada up to 1700. The volume is very handsomely printed; some copies are printed on vellum paper, and others on Dutch paper. This extraordinary Collection of Voyages by Joost Hartgerts is sometimes called the "Dutch De Bry" or the "Dutch Hulsius;" for in beauty of execution and intrinsic interest it rivals both of those famous collections. In point of rarity there is no comparison; this being scarcely known to bibliographers. How many parts Hartgerts published, it is even now uncertain, although the most active research has for many years been made by Collectors of Voyages and Travels. The parts were probably issued and sold separately, and their collection into sets, with a collective title, preface, etc., was an afterthought. This collection has an advantage over De Bry and Hulsius, that many of the voyages are in the language in which they were originally written, while most of those by De Bry and Hulsius are translations. See Stevens' "Nuggets," No. 1339, for complete titles and collations. Of so many as relate to America, Parts vi., viii., and x., we give the titles at length under the names of their respective authors.

Title 1 l., To the Reader, signed Samuel Hartlib, and Instructions, 3 l., Verses, 4 l., Text, 12 pp. On the title-page of a copy, once in my possession, after the word Virginia, is written "being the Daughter of Mr. Ananias Dare born 18 of Augt 1587 On the Island of Roanak who being the first Child born there of English Parents was Christened Virginia." One of the poems, however, is "By her Brother," and is signed "John Ferran," which is inconsistent with the name of "Dare," unless he was her brother-in-law. Afterwards reprinted with the following title:

This description of Guiana or the wild coast of South America, its geography, history, inhabitants, animals, with an account of its discovery and the colonies of the Spaniards, French and Portuguese, is said by Mr. Warden to be "by far the best work ever published on the countries described." The author was Director of the East India Company, and a man of very high standing, who had access to all the authorities. Quaritch remarks: "It will serve to temper the warm colouring of Stedman's narrative." There are copies on large paper. The following is a German translation:

A Collection of Poems in Latin, Greek and English, on the Death of George II. and the accession of George III., preceded by a fulsome address written by Governor Bernard. "The inevitable condition of such a work," says Mr. Duychinck, "is eulogy; so the departing guest is sped and the coming welcomed, in the most rapturous figments of poetry."—Cyclopædia American Literature, I. 11. The authors were Edward Holyoke, Sir Francis Bernard, Governor; Stephen Sewall, Benjamin Church, John Lovell, and others. See "Monthly Anthology" for June, 1809, also the "Monthly Review" for July, 1763, where it is said to "contain some indifferent performances; but these, though they cannot be well excused when they come from ancient and established seats of learning, may at least be connived at here; and what we could not endure from an illustrious University, we can pardon in an infant Seminary." It contains the first specimen of printing with Greek type executed in the North American colonies.

Usually bound in two or three volumes. "The author passed twenty years as a missionary in Chili. The main object of the work is to promote a knowledge of the Chilian language, which he avers to be as much above all other languages, as the Chilian Andes are above the mountains of the rest of the earth. The work is divided into seven parts. The first is a very ample grammar of the Chilian tongue, amounting to near two hundred pages. The second is a translation into the Chilian tongue of Father Porney's 'Indiculus Universalis.' The third is a Chilian catechism, in verse and prose. The fourth is an ample vocabulary of the Chilian language. The fifth is a Latin vocabulary, corresponding with the preceding. The sixth contains the music for accompanying the organ, in chanting the poetical catechism. The seventh is the author's diary of a missionary excursion in the years 1751 and 1752"—North American Review.

HAYWOOD (J.) The | Civil and Political | History | of the | State of Tennessee, | from its | Earliest Settlement | up to | the year 1796; | including the | Boundaries of the State. | By John Haywood. | Printed for the Author | by Heiskell and Brown, | Knoxville, Tenn. | 1823. 8vo, pp. (6), 504. Map. BA. 31084

This work, only less rare than the following, contains a large portion of material relating to the border warfare with the Indians, narrated in that work. The speculative and antiquarian portions and descriptions of mounds are omitted, but the story of Indian conflicts and massacres is narrated with greater detail and minuteness, filling much the larger portion of the work. The story of the formation of the State of Franklin, and the civil war which ensued, is a chapter of American history but little known, and scarcely exceeded in interest by any other. See Field's "Essay," No. 671.

HAYWOOD. The | Natural and Aboriginal | History | of | Tennessee, | up to the | First Settlements Therein | by the | White People | in the | year 1768. | By John Haywood | of the County of Davidson, in the State of Tennessee. | Nashville: | Printed by George Wilson. | 1823. 8vo, pp. viii, 390, liv. BA. 31085

A volume of much rarity. The author has brought together a large number of curious facts, relating to the origin and character of the natives of his State, prior to the settlement by the whites. He does not favor the hypothesis of great antiquity in the Indian nations of America, but describes with great care the relics of the race which once inhabited this territory.

B., BA., C., H., P. 31181

Of this first and best edition there are copies on large paper. It was the first of a long series of Arctic Voyages and Travels which reflect so much honor on the British Press. Its publication is due to the celebrated navigator La Perouse who captured Fort Albany, Hudson's Bay, and found the MS. of Hearne. The fort was afterwards surrendered to the British, but La Perouse stipulated for the publication of this work by the Hudson's Bay Company, which stipulation was honorably fulfilled in this beautiful volume. See Bartlett's Catalogue of J. C. Brown's Library; "M. Rev.," xx. 246, and Rich's "Bibliotheca Americana," i. 390. "The author will always be remembered as the first white man that ever gazed on the dreary expanse of the Arctic or Frozen Ocean from the northern shores of the Continent of America."

Brunet quotes an edition in 4to, and the Sobolewski catalogue describes an edition, Paris, 1797, 2 vols., which is probably an error as to the date. The preface to this edition confirms the legend as to the discovery of the journal referred to in our No. 31181.

"The whole of this noble work is devoted to a history of the relations of the Indians of America to its Spanish invaders; and the effect of their occupation, and conquest upon the population, religion, and manners of the aborigines. The various narratives and histories, which describe the awful destruction of many Indian nations by the Spaniards, are criticised with true philosophical acumen, and the veracity and capability of their authors fairly examined." There are copies of this edition dated Paris, MDCCLXXXIV. This is the first edition of the Travels of this famous friar, giving his voyage up the Mississippi from the Illinois river. He first described the Falls of Niagara, and, according to some authorities, named Louisiana after the then King of France, Louis XIV. But this fact is disputed by Harris and others; it is, however, the first printed account of Louisiana.

Title, pp. (70), 506. 2 Maps, 2 Plates, one of which is the first engraved view of Niagara Falls. BA., H., J.C.B., M. 31349

This is the first edition of the second part, it includes the substance of his first book, but gives, before the account of his voyage up the Mississippi, an account of a voyage he here claims to have made down to the mouth and up again. It is identical, in fact, with Membré's in Leclercq, which Hennepin says was taken from his account. The charges against Hennepin's veracity are based on this interpolation chiefly. The preface contains a narration of his embroglio with Mr. La Salle. See Trömel, No. 422. The following is the same work with a new title-page only.

HENNEPIN. Nouvelle | Découverte | d'un très grand | Pays Situé
dans l'Amerique, | entre | Le Nouveau Mexique, | et La Mer Glaciale, | Avec les Cartes, et les Figures nécessaires, et de plus |

BA. 31351

This forms a third series of Hennepin's Travels. It is not a personal narrative, as he was but once in America. It gives an account of La Salle's unfortunate journey, and describes at greater length the manners, customs, and superstitions of the Indian tribes.

HENNEPIN. Voyage | ou Nouvelle decouverte | d'un tres-grand pays, | dans | l'Amérique, | entre le Nouveau | Mexique | et la Mer Glaciale, | Par le R. P. Blondel. | A Amsterdam, Chez Adriaan Braakman. M. D. CCIV. | 12mo, Frontispiece, pp. (34), 604, (32). 2 Maps, 6 Plates. BA. 31352

Brunet says pp. 516, having probably an imperfect copy which did not include the "Voyage qui contient," etc., pp. 517-604.

HENNEPIN. Voyage Curieux | Du R. P. Louis Hennepin, | Missionnaire Recollect, & Notaire Apostolique, | Qui contient une | Nouvelle Decouverte | D'un Tres-Grand Pays, | Situé dans l'Amérique, | Entre le Nouveau Mexique & la Mer Glaciale, | Avec | Toutes les particularitez de ce Pays, & les avantages qu'on | en

peut tirer par l'établissement des Colonies, enrichi | de Cartes & augmenté de quelques figures | en taille douce nécessaires. | Outre cela on a aussi ajoûté ici un | Voyage | Qui contient une Relation exacte de l'Origine, Mœurs, | Coutumes, Religion, Guerres & Voyages | Des Caraïbes, | Sauvages des Isles Antilles de l'Amérique, | Faite par le Sieur De La Borde, | Employé à la Conversion des Caraïbes, | Et tirée du Cabinet de Mr. Blondel. | A La Haye, | Chez Jean Kitto, Marchand Libraire, dans | le Spuy-straet. 1704. 12mo, Two Titles, one of which is engraved, pp. (32), 604, (32). 2 Maps, 6 Plates. H.C.M. 31353

The engraved title reads, "Nouveaux Voyages du R P Louis Hennepin et de Sieur Dela Borde." This is a reprint of Hennepin's second publication entitled: "Nouvelle découverte d'un tres grand pays situé dans l'Amérique &c." (Utrecht, 1697), together with the voyage made by Sieur De la Borde to the Antilles, giving an account of the Caraïbes, not elsewhere published, p. 517 (our No. 604), which was printed by Van der Aa. Brunet refers to this edition as a reprint of his "Nouveau Voyage," printed at Utrecht in 1698; and, at the same time, gives as his principal article on Hennepin this very edition containing La Borde with a different title, as if it were a different work and the first of the series. Some copies have the imprint, A Leide: Chez Pierre van der Aa. MDCCIV.

DCCXI. | 12mo, oblong title, pp. (32), 604, (32). 2 Maps, 6 Plates. BA., H. 31354

The same as the edition of 1704, with a title printed in 4to.

This Italian translation is by Casimiro Freschot; it is a little remarkable that the first translation should have been into Italian. It does not appear ever to have been reprinted.

This Spanish version, which is of course an abridgment, concludes our long list of the various editions of the work of this famed traveller, who was "the undoubted discoverer and explorer of the Upper Mississippi, and the first to lay open to the world that mighty region." That he should have made some mistakes is not to be wondered at, and that when he first saw the Falls of Niagara he should have overrated the "wonderful downfall of above 600 feet," is not very surprising; but his mistakes have not entitled him to receive the castigations which have been heaped upon him. Bancroft, Vol. III., 202, remarks: "Had he loved truth, he would have gained a noble reputation, who now is remembered, not merely as a light-hearted and daring discoverer, but also as a boastful liar. The Journal of a voyage down the Mississippi in this book is a lie by the author." Charlevoix was the first to attack the author, not so much with reference to the truth of his statements as to his manners. He remarks that Hennepin "vents his chagrin not only on the Sieur de la Sale, but on France also, by which he deemed himself ill used, and he tries to save his credit by declaring himself a born subject of the Catholic King. But he should have remembered that it was at the expense of France that he travelled in America, and that it was in the name of the most Christian King that he and the Sieur Dacan took possession of the countries which they had discovered. He does not even hesitate to aver that it was with the consent of the Catholic King, his first sovereign, that he dedicated his book to William III., King of England, and that he solicited that monarch to effect the conquest of those vast tracts, send colonies there, and have the gospel preached to the heathen. This step, which scandalized the Catholics, and made even Protestants laugh, surprised to see a religieux, calling himself Missionary and Apostolic Prothonotary, exhort a Protestant Prince to found a church in the New World. All these works are written in a declamatory style, offensive by its inflation, and revolting by the liberties which the author takes, and by his indecent invectives. As to substance, Father Hennepin believed himself entitled to take a traveller's license; he is accordingly much decried in Canada, his fellow-travellers often protesting that he was anything but truthful in his accounts."—New France, Vol. I. On which we remark that it must be recollected that Charlevoix (whose remarks are ungrammatical) was a Jesuit, and that Hennepin belonged to an order who were opposed to them, that he should have solicited the assistance of William III. is simply a proof that he was no bigot. Mr. Field very properly observes that "criticism [on Hennepin] proceeds from sources which entitle him to the benefit at least of a doubt of its impartiality," and adds, "The author lost the support of his own brethren of the order of Recollects by neglecting or refusing to return to his duties in America as a missionary." "This Reverend Father was the most impudent of liars, and the narrative is a rare monument of brazen mendacity. Hennepin, however, had seen much and dared much: for among his many failings fear had no part; and where his vanity or his spite was not involved he often told the truth. ... These fabrications occur, not in the early editions, which are comparatively truthful, but in the edition of 1697, and those which followed. La Salle was dead at the time of their publication."—PARKMAN'S Discovery of the Great West, p. 124. The question of Hennepin's veracity, as to his claim of descending the Mississippi, was first raised by Sparks' "Life of La Salle," "Amer. Biog.," II. 1, followed by Shea, Parkman, etc. A portion of Hennepin's first work is given in Shea's "Discovery of the Mississippi," and his "New Discovery" is included in the "Amer. Ant. Soc. Trans.," Vol. I. See Faribault's "Bibl.," also "N. Am. Rev.," XLVIII. 70; XLIX. 258.

Folio. + Fourth Impression, with many Additions. London: R. Everingham. 1677. Folio. 31471

Some copies of the first edition are entitled: "A Description of the Persian Monarchy now beinge, the Orientall Indyees, Iles, and other parts of the greater Asia and Africk." In returning to England Herbert coasted the eastern shores of North America; which gives him occasion to display some erudition on the subject of the discovery of the New World. The last chapter is "A Discourse and prooffe that Madoc ap Owen-Gwyned first found out that Continent now called America," illustrated with quotations from the early Welsh Bards in evidence of the departure of Madoc with a number of ships and men for an unknown country at the west. The analogies in language which the author gives to prove the identification of Cymric words in Mexican names is entirely fanciful. Nor are the manners and customs of the North American Indians, to which he refers, of any account as evidences of a Welsh colony in America. It is amusing that he points to the name of Cape Breton as a proof that his countrymen were there in the ninth century.

 Title, pp. (20), 236, (8). Plate. 31476

"The author of this excessively curious and rare work was Vice-Admiral of the celebrated expedition of the Dutch in 1643, under Admiral Hendrick Brouwer, against the Spaniards of Chili; first printed at Amsterdam in 1646, and three years later forming the 25th Part of the Collection of Hulsius. Brouwer dying on the passage out, the command fell upon Herckmans, who was probably the amateur compiler and editor of the various Journals. This Zee Vaert Lof is an elaborate historical poem in six books in honor of Navigation. All the celebrated voyages of the world from Noah to 1632 are recorded in chronological order. The voyages of discovery, leading up to the discovery of America, are mentioned with considerable detail, and after Columbus are recorded most of the voyages both to the east and the west, especially the expeditions of the Dutch navigators. The voyages to the north are all mentioned in the text and notes. The volume is beautifully illustrated by an engraved title and eighteen exquisite etchings in the text. The one at the beginning of the third book bears the mark of Rembrandt, with the date 1633."—STEVENS. Ximenes, in his introduction, remarks that the work of Hernandez, abridged by the Neapolitan physician Nardo Antonio Reccho, by strange ways reached the Indies, and fell into his hands; and that he was induced to publish this translation, adding such examples as fell into his way. This is probably the work referred to by Henry Stevens' "Bibliotheca Historica," No. 891, where the date is said to be 1604.

"Belle édition, publiée par J. B. Muñoz Casimire Ortega. Elle est augmentée de pièces jusqu'alors inédites et sauvées de l'incendie."—BRUNET. Of this edition there are copies on large paper. These volumes contain the "Historiæ Plantarum Novæ His-paniæ," Libri xxiv., much enlarged from the author's manuscript, the minerals, animals, and notes have not been reprinted. Stevens observes: "This edition is not to be compared with the work of Dr. Ricci. This is more of Hernandez without his editors, more correct, with many additions, but without any illustrations. Had Hernandez lived to edit and publish his own work, as Humboldt and Bonpland did theirs, two hundred years later, it is not likely that these two friends would have then laid before the public so much that was entirely new to the philosophers of the Old World." The author was a Spanish physician and naturalist sent to the North American Spanish possessions by order of Philip the Second, for the purpose of describing their productions, concerning whom Acosta remarks: "Doctor Francis Hernandez hath made a goodly worke upon this subject, of Indian plants, liquors, and other phisicall things, by the King's expresse commission and commandement, causing all the plants at the Indies to be lively painted, which they say are above a thousand two hundred, and that the worke cost above three score thousand ducats." And Mr. Prescott says concerning the edition of 1651: "The work of Hernandez is a monument of industry and erudition, the more remarkable as being the first on this difficult subject; and after all the light from the labors of later Naturalists, it still holds its place as a book of the highest authority." The author's manuscripts were deposited in the library of the Escorial, and many of them were destroyed by fire in 1671. For further particulars concerning this "Third Pliny," see an article by Du Petit Thouars in the "Biographie Universelle," article Recchi. See also Trömel, No. 263, and Rich's Catalogue, No. 282, where some peculiarities and bibliographical variations are pointed out, but not fully explained. It is evident Rich had not seen the edition described No. 31515. Mr. Rich remarks, that "at page 460, there is an address to the reader, dated in Rome 1625, which appears to have been placed, instead of an address to Cardinal Barberini, with the same date ... A dedication to the same Cardinal, at page 903 ... without date, is supplied in some copies by another to the Duke del Infantado, dated Rome, 1651. In some copies the figure of the Dragon, at page 816, is torn out, and the plates at pages 213 and 301 are often wanting: many copies have only the engraved title-page, in some dated 1649." Leon Pinelo says an edition was printed in Germany.

This work should go with the General History, and is usually bound at the end of the second volume after the fourth Decade. In the composition of this work the author had access to the most secret of the archives of Spain. It embraces the history from the discovery of America to 1555. The engraved title contains a miniature of the author, and representations of Mexican Deities. It was published in Latin, with additions from Le Maire and Cevallos, under the following title:

HERRERA. Novvs Orbis, Sive Descriptio Indiæ Occidentalis, Auctore Antonio de Herrera, Supremo Castellæ & Indiarum auctoritate Philippi III. Hispaniarum Regis Historiographo. Metaphraste C. Barlæo. Six prel. leaves, including the engraved and printed titles; text, 44 leaves; followed by a half-title "Ephemerides," etc., 3 leaves and text, 46 to 81, 81 repeated, 1 leaf followed by another half-title "Descriptio Indiæ Occidentalis, etc., Authore Petro Ordonez de Cevallos," 9 leaves; succeeded by a half-title "Brevis ac Succincta America," 11 leaves. The first part has the 14 maps copied from the Madrid edition of 1601 of the "Indias Occidentales," and Le Maire is illustrated with the three maps taken from

De Bry, together with 4 plates in the text. Stevens observes "In the Preface to Barcia's reprint of Herrera, Madrid, 1726-30, the editor repudiates this edition, as being full of typographical errors, and encumbered with matters not pertaining to Herrera." On which Quaritch remarks: "It is erroneously stated in the 'American Nuggets' that Barcia, in the preface to his edition of Herrera, repudiates the edition by Colin as full of errors. The fact is, that Barcia makes nowhere any remark prejudicial to the above publication of 1622, which certainly contains a faithful translation of the 'Description' of Herrera, and an equally faithful reproduction of the fourteen genuine maps. He alludes only to the Antwerp edition of 1728." But Mr. Quaritch's note is appended to the French version, described infra, yet the review is probably correct. It is reprinted in part, in Vol. xii. of De Bry's "Grands Voyages." See Camus' "Mémoire," 147-160; Tiele, No. 294.

This, which is Barcia's reprint of the first edition, usually accompanies the General History, and forms part of that work. See our note to No. 31539, supra. The title is engraved, and the final DE of the first line is one letter.

The contents of this French version are the same as that of the preceding Dutch, except that the French translation has not the portrait of Le Maire. "The volume is valuable as containing the first edition of the genuine Voyage of Le Maire (also issued in Latin and Dutch in the same year) as distinguished from that which had been, through the Dutch India Company's jealousy of Le Maire, published by Blaeu under the name of Cornelius Schouten, who had commanded one of Le Maire's vessels. It concludes with the Spanish and English voyages to Magellan's Straits and the descriptions of America given by Ordoñez de Cevallos and Bertius."—QUARITCH. For a detailed list of the contents see Leclerc's Catalogue, No. 708. See also Ternaux, No. 447; Rich, No. 168; Camus, p. 162.

The Portraits and Plates in the text are copies from De Bry, by Bouttats, and are not so accurate as those which are used in Barcia's edition. This Antwerp edition was, in fact, brought out with a design to forestall Barcia's, to which it is very inferior, especially with regard to the absence of the maps, without which the "Description" is almost valueless. This "Description" is sometimes found at the beginning of Vol. I., but more frequently after the eighth decade.

Each decade has an engraved title. "Historia general de los Hechos de los Castellanos," pp. (40), 78, 14 Maps. En Madrid: En la Imprenta de Francisco Martinez Abad. Año de MDCCLXXXVIII. Each engraved title is divided into from ten to fourteen compartments, in which is represented some scene of the conquest of the Indians by the invading Spaniards, or a portrait of some eminent Conquistador; seventy-two battle-scenes, views of human sacrifices, or Indian life, and thirty-nine portraits are thus exhibited. In some sets the "Description de las Indias Occidentales," or "Historia general de los Hechos de los Castellanos," 1730, is found preceding the "Tabla" in Vol. IV., and in the LARGE PAPER copies it is usual to bind this "Description" and "Tabla" together as a fifth volume, indeed, some small paper copies are thus divided. There are copies of this edition dated 1727, 1728, 1729, and 1730, which are all alike except as to the date—the work not having been completed till that year—the publishers changing the dates as circumstances suggested. It is merely a reprint of the original edition of 1601–1615, with the addition of a very copious index, compiled under the direction of Gonzales Barcia, but without a continuation, as erroneously stated by Meusel, and it is deservedly regarded as the best edition.

"Histoire estimée."—BRUNET. "A work written under the influence of contemporary passions, and published before any of those passions had been much tranquilized."—TICKNOR, III. 142.

A grand chorus of writers, from Nicholas Antonio down to Thomas W. Field, unite in their testimony as to the fidelity of this Prince of Historians. He was successively employed as historiographer by Philip II., III., and IV., and having access to every available source of information, made free use of many original documents which had never before been printed, and which no longer exist in MS. His works embrace a large part of the MS. "Chronicle" of B. de las Casas, and almost the entire MS. "Relacion" of Palacio is incorporated with his fourth decade. A French bibliographer, quoted without name by Trömel, observes: "Parmi les historiens de l'Amérique, D. Antonio de Herrera tient incontestablement le premier rang. Il naquit en 1559, et fut quelque temps secrétaire de Vespasien de Gonzague, vice-roi de Naples, et fut ensuite nommé par Philippe II. historiographe des Indes. Son ouvrage est ce que nous possédons de plus complet sur l'époque qu'il embrasse." The Spanish bibliographer Salva says: "Cet ouvrage est un des plus importants qu'on ait publiés sur les découvertes des Espagnols dans le Nouveau-Monde." Munoz, at the 22d page of the prologue to his "History of the New World," remarks: "Herrera eclipsed all other historians on the same subject which had till then been published, in fullness of matter, truth of narration, chronological arrangement, geographical accuracy, and beauty of style." J. Beldon de Guevara writes: "No one of all those who have writ on this subject has performed it with so much exactness as Ant. de Herrera." The Italian, Davila, observes "This history is very useful for all sorts of people, because the author's method is very good, being at the same time brief and intelligible, joining profound knowledge and undoubted truth, and undeceiving us as to many errors into which other authors have led us." The Scotch historian Robertson remarks: "Of all the Spanish writers Herrera furnishes the fullest and most accurate informations concerning the conquest of Mexico, as well as every other transaction of America; his Decades may be ranked amongst the most judicious and useful collections." The English bibliographer Dibdin observes: "Antonio de Herrera is well designated by Bishop Kennett as the chief chronicler of the Indies and Castile; he stands in the foremost rank of early American Historians." Our own Washington Irving, in his "Life of Columbus," concludes a judicious criticism thus: "Herrera has left voluminous proofs of industrious research, extensive information, and great literary talent. His works bear the mark of candour, integrity, and a sincere desire to record the truth." Ticknor, in his "History of Spanish Literature" accords him equal praise; and Thomas W. Field's "Essay on Indian Bibliography" concludes our series of eulogizers with the statement that "His work is a perfect treasure-house of the most valuable details, regarding the original state of the religion and manners of the Indians."

Latham remarks "His data he collected by means of an almost unlimited correspondence with the Jesuit missionaries of the Propaganda." And Balbi observes "Ouvrages, qui, malgré beaucoup de défauts et d'erreurs, dûs en partie à l'époque où ils furent rédigés et en partie au manque d'une saine critique dans le choix des matériaux n'en contiennent pas moins des trésors précieux pour l'histoire et la science des langues, surtout à l'égard de celles du Nouveau Monde." In speaking of America, he remarks "this great tract of land ought, and that most aptly, to be called the New World; New for the late discovery, and World, for the vast spaciousness of it: the most vsual and yet somewhat improper name, is America." Extract from the letter of the noble General P. P. Heyn to the ... West India Company; written in the ship Amsterdam, 1628. See Asher's "Bibliographical Essay," also Frederick Muller's "Catalogue," 1872, p. 100, where Mr. Muller remarks, "Perhaps no success ever made so great a sensation in Holland as the capture of the Spanish Silverfleet at Matanca by P. Heyn, in 1628. ... This important capture not only enriched Holland, but inspired the West-India-Company with new courage; for immediately afterwards they began to elaborate the privileges of the colonists of New-Netherland; it was with the money gained in this affair, that the Company in a great measure defrayed the enormous but useless expenses of their North-American Colony." The various tracts which relate to the subject, are in this dictionary described under the names of the authors, or when anonymous, if not below, under the first word in the title-page, articles excepted.

A continuation of the preceding. The two works have also a uniform title: "The History of the United States of America." Vols. I.-VI. It concludes with the Administration of Madison and Monroe. The merits of this history are very considerable, and entitle it to a place in every extensive library. The author, in avoiding what he is pleased to call the Fourth of July style of Bancroft, perhaps, falls into the opposite extreme—great severity of style. See "Edinburgh Review," Vol. CII., "Westminster Review," New Series, Vol. II., "North American Review," Vol. LXXIII. 411. It was translated into Dutch with the following title:

HILDRETH. Geschiedenis van de Vereenigde Staten van Noord Amerika, sedert de ontdekking van Columbus. Uit het Engelsch, met aantekeningen door M. Keijzer. 's Gravenhage. 1854-57. 6 vols., 8vo. 31778

Hill or Aitken was a native of Scotland. With the privity of Silas Deane, whom he met and conferred with at Paris, the attempt to destroy the government property, stores, and shipping at Portsmouth, was determined upon, and, notwithstanding its apparently desperate and impracticable character, it partially succeeded. From Deane, who supplied him with a royal passport, and a sum of money in advance, he had assurances of a reward proportioned to the services he should render to the American cause. The counsel for the crown on the trial, publicly accused Benjamin Franklin and Silas Deane of complicity in the enterprise, and expressed a hope that they might be called to account for it. "The affair," says Gordon, "created much confusion, apprehension, and suspicion throughout England at the time of its occurrence." Stevens says "John the Painter was an American who, in the Revolutionary War, very cordially espoused the cause of his country, and resolved to secure a good name by some daring deed. He came to England and attempted to burn the Portsmouth Dock where were the chief shipping and stores to be used against America. He failed and was executed. In his defence, which is now of no inconsiderable rarity, he compares himself to many ancient victims self offered up for their country's good, especially to the assassin of Porsenna. 'Love of country was the motive of both,' he says, 'of me John Moxam, of him Mutius Scævola.' How different the result hitherto from that of André and of Hale." See "M. Rev.," LVI. 391, 398, 478.

[HILLIARD D'AUBERTEUIL (Michel René).] Considérations sur l'état présent de la Colonie Française de Saint Domingue. Ouvrage politique et législatif; Présenté au Ministre de la Marine. Par M<sup>r</sup>. H. D<sup>l</sup>. Paris: Chez Grangé. MDCCLXXVI-VII. 2 vols., 8vo, pp. xvi, 327; (4), iv, 368. c., H. 31897

A third volume was commenced, but was not published. It was first answered by Du Buisson in "Nouvelles considérations," and translated into German as:

HILLIARD D'AUBERTEUIL. Betrachtungen über den gegenwärtigen Zustand der Französischen Colonie zu San Domingo, aus dem Französischen übersetzt und mit einigen Anmerkungen versehen. Leipzig. 1779. 2 vols., 8vo. A. 31898

HILLIARD D'AUBERTEUIL. Essais historiques et politiques sur les Anglo-Américains. Par M. Hilliard d'Auberteuil. Bruxelles. M.DCC.LXXXI-II. 2 vols. in 4 pts., 8vo, pp. xvi, 198; xii, 199-441; xii, 208; xiv, 209-436. BA. + Bruxelles. MDCCLXXXIV. 2 vols., 8vo, pp. xii, 303; iv, 315. 17 Maps and Plates. H.

The second volume, printed in 1782, is entitled: "Essais Historiques et Politiques sur la Révolution de l'Amérique Septentrionale." The work was reprinted in a more elegant manner as below:

HILLIARD D'AUBERTEUIL. Essais Historiques et Politiques sur les Anglo-Américains. Par M. Hilliard d'Auberteuil. A Bruxelles. M.DCC.LXXXII. 2 vols., 4to, pp. xii, 303; vi, 307. 8 Maps, 10 Plates. 31900

The Plates in this edition, by Le Barbier and others, are finely engraved and include First Assembly of Congress, Portraits of Hancock, Washington, Franklin and Pitt, Death of Warren, Montgomery, Fire in New York, Plan of the Battle of Monmouth, etc. At the end of Vol. II. are a number of Epitaphs upon American officers.

[HILLIARD D'AUBERTEUIL.] Histoire de l'Administration de Lord North, Ministre des Finances en Angleterre, depuis 1770 jusqu'en 1782, et de la guerre de l'Amérique Septentrionale, jusqu'à la Paix: Suivie du Tableau Historique des Finances d'Angleterre, depuis Guillaume III. jusqu'en 1784. ... A Londres: et se trouve a Paris: Couturier. M.DCC.LXXXIV. 2 vols., 8vo, pp. xx, 276; (4), 180. + Nouveau Compte Rendu. pp. 80. c.

The author says, that after having translated the "View of the History of Great Britain during the Administration of Lord North," he thought he might substitute in its place a less prolix and more complete history, preserving all that was useful, agreeable, and interesting in the English work; and adding a narrative of events which would comprise a complete account of the American War.

HILLSBOROUGH. A Letter to the Right Honourable the Earl of Hillsborough, on the Present Situation of Affairs in America. In which the Arguments in Favour of the Colonies are placed in a New Point of View, and their Rights and Privileges are incontestibly demonstrated on Constitutional Principles, supported by Unanswerable Arguments, drawn from their Ancient Original Charters, and the Circumstances attending their first Settlement. Together with a Serious and Impartial Consideration of the Consequences which must necessarily result from the Exercise of Coercive Measures, to compel them to a Submission to the late Acts of Parliament. Also, an Appendix in Answer to a Pamphlet, intitled "The Constitutional Right of Great Britain to tax the Colonies." London: J. Kearsly. 1769. 8vo, pp. (1), 117. + Boston: Reprinted by Edes & Gill. 1769. 8vo, pp. 55. B., C.

The "Monthly Review," styles this "Another very spirited advocate for the liberties of America." It is perhaps by Samuel Adams. The author is particularly severe on the Earl of Hillsborough, whom he blames for the troubles in the colonies. "Your troops," he says "have been obliged to abandon their conquests; and all their laurels are blasted. Cushing still lives; Otis still harangues with spirited firmness; and the civil power begins to assume its hated offices; nay worse, the day of retribution approaches, and your Lordship must answer for having invaded the privileges of a free assembly, by a threatening letter, and having infringed an act of Parliament, in quartering troops in Boston, expressly contrary to law." See also Pliny, Junior.

HINTON (J. H.) The History and Topography of the United States of North America, from the Earliest Period to the Present Time, comprising Political and Biographical History; Geography, Geology, Mineralogy, Zoology and Botany; Agriculture, Manufactures and Commerce; Laws, Manners, Customs and Religion; with a Topographical Description of the Cities, Towns, Sea-Ports, Public Edifices, Canals, &c. &c. Including all the Information necessary for Emigrants of every class. Edited by John Howard Hinton, A.M. ... Illustrated with a Series of Views, ...

and Maps ... . London: Jennings & Chaplin & J. T. Hinton. 1830-1832. 2 vols., 4to, pp. (6), xvi, 476; viii, (2), 580. 99 Plates and Maps. Maps and Plates. B., C. 31965

This once popular history, first published in monthly parts, is now sought for mainly on account of the fine steel engravings with which it is illustrated, and in this respect, the early editions are of course preferable. Some copies were issued with the plates on India paper, of which a few impressions were published in folio. It was reprinted as :

HINTON. The History and Topography of the United States of North America, ... the Cities, Towns, Sea-Ports, Public Edifices, Canals, &c. &c. By John Howard Hinton, A.M. ... With Additions and Corrections by Samuel L. Knapp, ... A New Edition. Boston: Samuel Walker. 1834. 2 vols., 4to, pp. (6), viii, 427; (4), viii, 507, (1). "The most important part of this work is that which relates to the commencement and prosecution of the war with America. The author aims at impartiality, and no where discovers the zeal of a partizan. He is neither a determined Whig nor a pertinacious Tory, but seems to have made it a rule to steer a middle course. This volume is intended as a continuation to the history of the first ten years of the reign of George III., written apparently by a different author."—RICH, I. 303.

"After part of the first chapter of Part II. of this work was printed, the author appears to have changed his mind, and commences anew with another chapter I. and a new paging, leaving the unfinished chapter, apparently to avoid the necessity of reprinting the sheet."—RICH, i. 273; but of this part there was a reissue radically different, and Horatio Rogers, of Providence, R. I., informs me that "in fact the reissue is not divided into parts at all. In it the whole of the first part is omitted bodily and chapter I. of the reissued volume is what is called chapter I. of Part II. of the old issue, save that the first three pages of chapter I. of Part II. are omitted and two new pages are substituted, both issues becoming alike in the third line from the bottom of page 2, the paging in the old issue having a page 2* as well as a page 2." The third volume, which continues the history to 1783, was a subsequent publication, and is seldom found with the other two. At page 267 begins an Appendix of State papers. The folded table, giving the names and rank of the killed, wounded, and missing of the British forces at the battles of Concord and Bunkerhill, is frequently wanting. Lowndes attributes the work to P. Gordon.

This "Dutch Mercury" is a sort of Annual Register, and is continued to 1815, or later; the volumes which cover the period of the Dutch colonization in New-Netherland, and of the first period of the English government there, and the history of the War of Independence, are of much value to the student. The Dutch Colonies in Brazil, the Silver Fleet, Canada, Guiana, Cuba, etc., are also the subject of some of the articles. "This periodical publication, very similar to that of Wassenaer, contains some important materials for the History of New-Netherland."—ASHER.

HOLLIS (Thomas). Memoirs. See [Blackburne Francis].

[HOLLIS (Thomas).] The True Sentiments of America: contained in a Collection of Letters sent from the House of Representatives of the Province of Massachusetts Bay to Several Persons of High Rank in this Kingdom: Together with Certain Papers relating to a supposed Libel on the Governor of that Province, and a Dissertation [by John Adams] on the Canon and Feudal Law. London: J. Almon. 1768. 8vo, pp. 158. B.

The collecting and publication of these important papers in England is due to Thomas Hollis, an ardent Friend of the Colonies in London. They include the celebrated letter written by Samuel Adams to Dennis De Berdt, Agent for the House of Representatives in England, dated January 12, 1768, adopted by the Colonial Legislature and signed by the Speaker. Until recently there were doubts as to the authorship of this document, but all uncertainty is now removed, Mr. Bancroft having in his possession the original draft in the handwriting of Mr. Adams. See "History of the United States," Vol. vi., pp. 120-125, and "M. Rev.," xxxix. 87.

"It is evident that a work originally written in the early part of the thirteenth century cannot contain anything on America; but the De Sphera of Sacro-Bosco (i. e. John Holywood, Oxon.) became to the mathematicians and geographers of the century following the re-discovery by Columbus, an inexhaustible source of commentaries, some of which certainly contain references to the oceanic discoveries, attributed, especially by the Italian commentators to Vespuccius. The above contains only a woodcut of a globe with America."—Bib. Amer. Vet.

On folio 27 there is a diagram in proof of the rotundity of the earth, which contains a small map of America, in which the southern continent is more clearly and better drawn than the northern, and exhibits the courses of the Orinoco and the Amazon. This is probably the work of Chaves, who prepared a large map of the New World, which has never yet been printed. The only reference in the text to the Western Hemisphere is on the reverse of folio 25, where the disappearance of stars in the heaven and the appearance of new ones is noted as meeting the observation of voyagers on the Western ocean, to Peru or to Magellan's Strait. "The Latinized form of the name of John Holywood is Sacro Bosco, who flourished at the beginning of the thirteenth century, and whose learned treatise, 'De Sphaera Mundi,' the most famous book of the Middle Ages, was for centuries the subject of a host of commentators. He was named from Holywood, in Yorkshire, the place of his birth."—MAJOR'S Life of Prince Henry the Navigator, p. 102. A work of great popularity in its day. The earliest edition mentioned by Brunet is that of Ferrara, 1472, 4to. Hain describes no less than twenty-six editions of this, with works of the same kind, as having appeared in the fifteenth century.

This abridgment fails in the last quality by reason of its abbreviation, but is nearly as rare. The letter of Conrad Weiser narrates some remarkable incidents of his visit to the Onondagas not elsewhere preserved.

Written at the suggestion of De Laet, in answer to the "De Origine Gentium Americanorum" of Hugo Grotius, from whom it provoked an angry rejoinder, which was answered by a counter-treatise by J. de Laet. Whatever may be thought of Horn's theories concerning the original population of the Western continent, they are at least very curious and supported by an infinite wealth of learning; indeed, all of these essays display a high degree of erudition. The libel for which Horne was convicted is as follows: "King's Arms Tavern, Cornhill, June 7, 1775. At a Special Meeting this day of several members of the Constitutional Society, during an adjournment, a gentleman proposed that a subscription should be immediately entered into by such members present who might approve the purpose for raising the sum of £100, to be applied to the relief of the widows, orphans, and aged parents of our beloved American fellow-subjects, who, faithful to the character of Englishmen preferring death to slavery, were for that reason only inhumanly murdered by the King's troops at or near Lexington and Concord, Mass. on the 19th of last April, which sum being immediately collected, it was thereupon resolved that Mr. Horne do pay to-morrow into the hands of Mess. Brownes and Collison, on the account of Dr. Franklin, and that he be requested to apply the same to the above mentioned purpose." H.

An excessively rare work. The only copy sold in New York during many years was one damaged by water belonging to Mr. Bruce, at whose sale it was bought for Mr. Rice ; it was resold with his collection for $140.00. Mr. Quaritch, in a recent catalogue, offers a copy for £45, and remarks "I know of no other copy sold in the London market." The work had become so scarce even in 1810, that the editor of the edition of that year intimates that he experienced the greatest difficulty in finding a copy. Parker (the printer of this volume) was an apprentice to Bradford, and succeeded to the business in 1742. The following are reprints :

[HORSMANDEN.] A Journal of the Proceedings in the Detection of the Conspiracy Formed by some White People, in conjunction with Negro and other Slaves, for burning the City of New-York in America and murdering the Inhabitants. ... "One of the most valuable works on China, describing Districts never before traversed by Europeans." It is a curious fact that the Official Report of the Dutch East India Company's Embassy to China should first be published in this country. The Author and Head of the Embassy, M. Van Braam Houckgeest (a distinguished savant), fixed his residence in South Carolina, and this work was edited and published by M. Moreau de St. Mery, the celebrated French statesman, who for five years carried on the publishing business at Philadelphia, before he was recalled to France by Napoleon. The plates, &c., are very creditable specimens of American art. It is for this reason the work is allowed a place in this Dictionary.

HOWE. Campagnes Militaires du Lieutenant Général Sir William Howe, en Amérique: d'après le Compte rendu par lui-même dans un Committé de la Chambre des Communes le 29 Avril, 1779. Et d'après les Observations qu'il a publiées contre les Lettres à un Gentilhomme. La Haye: Chez Van Cleef, Gosse, Detune. MDCCLXXXI. 8vo, pp. viii, 70; Observations, pp. 116. B. + Rotterdam: Beunet & Hake. MDCCLXXXI. pp. viii, 70, 116.

This edition has an interesting preface of six pages not in the original, wherein the whole struggle is forcibly presented to the Dutch. "Twenty times," exclaims the translator, "have the English encouraged the idea and flattered themselves with it of putting a speedy termination to the war, yet after six years they are no farther advanced in the conquest or reconciliation than they were on the first day." This preface is dated, Amst. 25 Nov. 1780.

HOWE. A Full Vindication of the R. H. General's Conduct, against the Attacks of an Anonymous Libeller; who, in a Letter to the Printer of the London Chronicle, Jan. 28, 1779, stiles himself "a Friend to Great Britain." By a Friend to Truth. London. 1779. 8vo. 33340

General Howe's military operations in America are here ironically defended.

H[OWE]. *A Letter to the People of America, lately printed at New York; now re-published by an American. With a Postscript, by the Editor. Addressed to Sir W***** H***. London: T. Beckett. MDCCLXXVIII. 8vo, pp. (2), 74. BA., J.C.B.*

"The author earnestly admonishes and exhorts the revolted Americans to make it up with us; endeavoring to convince them, by every popular argument, that nothing but immediate reconciliation can save them from destruction."—Monthly Review.

HOWE. The Narrative of Lieut. Gen. Sir William Howe, in A Committee of the House of Commons, on the 29th of April, 1779, Relative to his Conduct, during his Late Command of the King's Troops in North America: To which are added, some Observations upon a Pamphlet, entitled, Letters to a Nobleman. London: Printed by H. Baldwin. MDCCLXXX. 4to, pp. (2), 110. + The Second Edition. [Ibid.] 4to, pp. (4), 110. B., H. + The Third Edition. [Ibid.] MDCCLXXXI. 4to, pp. (2), 110. BA.

"Sir William's vindication now appears; and candour must acknowledge that it is not a feeble attempt to rescue the general's reputation from the obloquy thrown upon it, not only by the author of the letters (to Joseph Galloway, esq.), but many other writers, who had joined in the cry against the noble commander."—Monthly Review, LXIII. 307. [HOWE.] Two Letters from Agricola to Sir William Howe; to which are Annexed, by the same Author, Political Observations. London: J. Millidge. 1779. 8vo, pp. 63. 33344

Scarce. "The author is very severe on Sir William Howe, whom he charges with the most shameful indolence and languor, in the conduct of the American war, which he accuses him of protracting, to the utter distress and ignominy of his country, while possessed of every superiority and advantage for putting a speedy and glorious end to the contest."—Monthly Review. A letter dated March 28, 1618, pp. 5-7, relates to the return of Sir W. Raleigh from Guiana; another, dated May 5, 1645, pp. 368-373, defends the first against some objections. Also pp. 304, 306, 307, 355, 448, 475, 476, contain allusions to America. These letters, relating to one of the most interesting periods of English History, the reigns of James I. and Charles I., discover a variety of literature, and abound with much entertaining and useful information. Ant. à Wood informs us "they were written by the author when confined in the Fleet prison for debt." See "Retrospective Review," Part IV.

This work by the author of the "Narrative of the Troubles with the Indians," 1677, was never before printed, although the MS. was known to, and made use of, by Mather, Prince, and Hutchinson. Hubbard derived the most important part of his early history from Gov. Winthrop's MS. Journal. See "N. A. Rev.," n. 221.

HUBBARD. The Happiness of a People|In the Wisdome of their Rulers|Directing|and in the Obedience of their Brethren|Attending|unto what Israel ougho [sic] to do:|Recommended in a|Sermon|Before the Honourable Governour and Council, and| the Respected Deputies of the Mattachusets Colony|in New-England.| Preached at Boston, May. 3d. 1676. being the day of Election there. | By William Hvbbard Minister of Ipswich. | Boston, Printed by John Foster. 1676. | 4to, pp. (8), 63. B., H.

Usually found bound up with the following :

HUBBARD. A|Narrative|of the Troubles with the|Indians| In New-England, from the first planting thereof in the|year 1607, to this present year 1677. But chiefly of the late| Troubles in the two last years, 1675 and 1676. | To which is added a Discourse about the Warre with the| Pequods | In the year 1637. | By W. Hubbard, Minister of Ipswich. | Published by Authority. | Boston ; Printed by John Foster, in the year 1677. | 4to.

Collation : 7 prel. leaves, viz. : Licence, signed "Simeon Bradstreet," etc. ; Title ; Dedication, pp. (4), signed "William Hubbard ;" "An Advertisement," etc., pp. (2) ; "To the Reverend Mr. William Hubbard," etc., 1 p., signed "J. S. ;" "Upon The elaborate Survey," etc., pp. (2), signed "B. T. ;" "The Printer to the Reader," 1 p. ; "A Map of New-England, Being the first that ever was here cut," etc. ; "A Narrative," etc., pp. 132 ; "A Table," etc., pp. (7) ; "A Postscript," 1 p. & pp. [7-12] ; "A Narrative of the Troubles With the Indians in New-England, From Pascataqua to Pemmaquid," pp. 88. A fine and perfect copy of this rare and valuable work, with the map which is often wanting, is one of the desiderata in an American collection. This book has been frequently reprinted, and will always remain an authority upon the subjects of which it treats. The Sermon, No. 33444, supra, which usually follows the "Narrative" is not a necessary part of the book, but we have never seen a copy of the "Narrative" in the original binding which did not contain it ; our opinion is that the publisher, having many copies of the Sermon, bound it up with the "Narrative" to get rid of "The Happiness ;" an unsalable tract. It possesses in itself high bibliographical interest, for, according to Thomas' "History of Printing," it is probably one of the first books printed in Boston, all the printing in the British Colonies, previous to 1676, having been done at Cambridge ; that year the first press was set up at Boston. There are errors in the pagination in signature m, page 84, but the error is corrected on page 93. In some copies the errata on the last page fills 10 lines, whereas there are generally 12 lines. The money value of this work is great ; Mr. Rice's copy sold in 1870 for $180. The buyer must be sure to get the right map, and concerning this he is referred to the note appended to the following reprint :

HUBBARD. The|Present State|of|New-England. | Being a | Narrative|Of the Troubles with the Indians|in|New-England, from the first planting | thereof in the year 1607, to this present year 1677 : | But chiefly of the late Troubles in the two last | years 1675, and 1676. | To which is added a Discourse about the War|with the Peqvods in the year 1637. | By W. Hubbard Minister of Ipswich. | London : Printed for Tho. Parkhurst at the Bible and Three Crowns in Cheapside, | near Mercers-Chappel, and at the Bible on London-Bridg. 1677. | 4to. 33446

Collation : 7 prel. leaves, viz. : Licence ; Title ; Dedication, pp. (4) ; An Advertisement, pp. (2) ; To the Reverend Mr. William Hubbard, pp. (2), signed "J. S. ;" Vpon the elaborate Survey, etc., pp. (2), signed "B. T. ;" "A Map of New-England, etc. ;"

Text, pp. 131; "A Table," etc., pp. (7); "Postscript," pp. (6); "A Narrative," etc., pp. 88. It will be noticed that, while the collation of the preliminary leaves is identical with the Boston edition as to their numbers, their contents differ. "The Printer to the Reader," which is in fact errata, is omitted, while the poetical addresses occupy 2 leaves instead of 3 pages as in the Boston edition. The errata on page 88 of the "Narrative" is also omitted, in other respects its contents are precisely the same. Its mercantile value is less than that of the Boston edition, and for this reason the map, which really belongs to the London edition, is often inserted in the "Narrative." The proper map can readily be identified by the following differences: in the Boston edition the mound, which is delineated immediately below the title of the map, is properly designated "The White Hills"—in the London edition this mound is called "The Wine Hills." There are other differences in the map which are minutely pointed out in Field's "Essay," Nos. 431 and 432. Mr. Field remarks that "It has remained a matter of some doubt whether the London edition is not complete without the map," on which we remark that there is no doubt at all about it, each edition has its own proper map without which either are incomplete. Mr. Field's conjecture as to the London edition having been printed from MS., based on the date of the licence, is scarcely tenable; the licence to print proves nothing. Finally the map to each of these editions has been produced in exact facsimile by Henry Stevens in London, and the map to the Boston edition was reproduced by W. E. Woodward in Boston, so that the motto caveat emptor will be good advice.

A Short State of the Countries and Trade of North America. Claimed by the Hudson's Bay Company, Under Pretence of a Charter for Ever, of Lands without Bounds or Limits, and an exclusive Trade to those unbounded Seas and Countries; Shewing the Illegality of the said Grant, and the Abuse they have made of it; and the Great Benefit Britain may obtain by settling those Countries, and extending the Trade amongst the Natives by civilizing and incorporating with them, and laying a Foundation for their becoming Christians and industrious Subjects of Great-Britain; and the Necessity there is of a Parliamentary Enquiry into the pretended Rights and exclusive Monopoly claimed by the said Company, and their Abuse of the Grant. That those Countries may be settled, either by fixing a Company under proper Regulations and Restrictions, or by laying open the Trade to all the British Merchants, and settling them at the Publick Expence, or by a moderate Tax upon that Trade. *London: J. A writer in the "North American Review," xiii. 334, says that this "History of Democracy in the United States," is, to all appearance, a semi-official emanation of the Austrian Cabinet.

HULSE or HULSIUS (Levinus). Sammlung von Sechs und Zwanzig Schiffahrten in verschiedene fremde Länder durch Lev. Hulsium und einige andere, aus dem Holländischen ins Deutsche übersetzt und mit allerhand Anmerkungen versehen. Nürnberg, Frankfurt, Oppenheim und Hanover. 1598-1650. 26 vols., 4to.

This is a general title to this celebrated collection of voyages, which was doubtless suggested by the success that had attended the publications of the series by the brothers De Bry; it is in some respects an imitation of these series, in others it is superior. A complete set exceeds in rarity a set of De Bry, and as Stevens remarks "Who sets his heart on a perfect Hulsius, let him sit down and count the cost of 'time and treasure.'" As several of the parts do not relate to America, we content ourselves with an enumeration of the date and collation of a series, and give the titles of the books which relate to America in full.

A reprint of the text of the "Atlas Historique et Géographique" which accompanies Humboldt's Voyage, and all that was published in this form. "This noble work, which we consider the greatest monument ever erected to the early history of this continent, is, despite a few immaterial errors, a sure guide, which has proved to us an inexhaustible source of valuable suggestions. The bibliographical notes contained in the Examen are not, we confess, in keeping with the learned and profound dissertations which we can never cease to admire, but there is scarcely a page which does not throw a vivid light upon every question connected with the geography, discovery and history of America."—Bibliotheca Americana Vetustissima.

This, the greatest work of one of the greatest men of the nineteenth century, includes some articles on America. The editions in German, French, and English, are too numerous and too general for us to enumerate. For the Atlas to this work see our Vol. II., No. 8201. #### HUMBOLDT AND BONPLAND.

The following titles are arranged in the order in which a set is usually bound up. It will be noticed that some of the titles have already appeared, but the following list describes only such works as are usually found with the folio and 4to series.

Voyage aux régions Equinoxiales du Nouveau continent, fait en 1799, 1800, 1801, 1802, 1803 et 1804. Par Al. de Humboldt et A. This general title of "Voyages," etc., with some variations, precedes all the books described in this series. "This work has been justly called by a competent judge 'a work of gigantic extent and richness, to which the modern literature of Europe can hardly offer a parallel.'"—Encyclopædia Americana. A fourth volume was announced but never published.

Every class of Mexican or Aztec, and Peruvian Antiquities, receives in this work the clearest philosophical analysis. This concludes our long list of the works of this great savant. We cannot do less than quote the words of three distinguished reviewers: "No name stands higher than that of Humboldt, among the lovers of geographical and physical science. Zealous, active, vigorous; imbued with liberal knowledge, skillful in general physics, and particularly attached to chemistry and its kindred branches, possessing ample means of indulging his taste, he has directed his inquiries into every department of nature and society. The mass of curious information which he procured in those distant travels, and the superb collection which he was enabled to make, relative to different objects of science, far exceed anything that has heretofore been achieved by the exertions of an individual."—Edinburgh Review, xvi. 223-24. "Humboldt is the most illustrious traveller of his day. Nothing seems too vast, too varied, too wonderful, or too minute, for the keen eye, penetrating intellect, and unwearied exertions of this extraordinary man. A botanist, zoologist, statist and philosopher, the genius of this great writer seems to have been peculiarly fitted for surveying the varieties and immensity of the physical world; and he accordingly takes the foremost rank of all the travellers, dead or living."—DIBDIN. "To write a book upon America without referring to Baron Humboldt at almost every page, is nearly impossible. He was the first who applied the light of science to the New World."—WARD's Mexico.
